

Bingo Night

Printable flyer template

A low-pressure, repeatable gathering where the game creates an easy reason to share a room.

BINGO NIGHT

[DAY, DATE] · [START–END]

[VENUE + ARRIVAL DETAIL]

Free · [ACCESS DETAILS] · [AGE GUIDANCE]

Hosted by [NAMED HUMAN + CONTACT]

Come alone or bring someone. A host will meet you at the door. No app is required.

Named human responsibility

The named host verifies every card and announcement, applies rules consistently, protects privacy, handles access and disputes, and stops conduct that makes the room unsafe or exploitative.

Bingo Night

Host script

A low-pressure, repeatable gathering where the game creates an easy reason to share a room.

1. Welcome. I'm [NAME], tonight's responsible host. I'll explain the room, the game, and who can help.
2. You may participate quietly, ask for a repeated call, take a break, or leave at any time.
3. We will play one practice round, then three full rounds. The posted rules and prize plan apply equally.
4. Photography is [NOT ALLOWED / ALLOWED ONLY WITH EACH PERSON'S PERMISSION].
5. Before we finish, I'll share the next date and invite anyone who wants to help host.

Named human responsibility

The named host verifies every card and announcement, applies rules consistently, protects privacy, handles access and disputes, and stops conduct that makes the room unsafe or exploitative.

Bingo Night

Run of show

A low-pressure, repeatable gathering where the game creates an easy reason to share a room.

1. 00:00–00:15 — Greet arrivals, offer seating/access help, distribute cards.
2. 00:15–00:25 — Explain rules and play a no-stakes practice round.
3. 00:25–01:10 — Run three rounds with short resets and answer questions.
4. 01:10–01:20 — Pause for refreshments and table conversation.
5. 01:20–01:30 — Close, thank helpers, announce next date, invite a co-host.

Named human responsibility

The named host verifies every card and announcement, applies rules consistently, protects privacy, handles access and disputes, and stops conduct that makes the room unsafe or exploitative.

Bingo Night

Materials checklist

A low-pressure, repeatable gathering where the game creates an easy reason to share a room.

- Verified bingo cards and call list
- Markers or chips
- Visible rule and prize sheet
- Microphone or voice amplification if needed
- Tables, chairs, and clear accessible paths
- Large-print cards and a way to repeat/display calls
- Name tags (optional; never required)
- Refreshments with ingredient/allergen labels if served
- Named host and backup contact

Named human responsibility

The named host verifies every card and announcement, applies rules consistently, protects privacy, handles access and disputes, and stops conduct that makes the room unsafe or exploitative.

Bingo Night

Follow-up template

A low-pressure, repeatable gathering where the game creates an easy reason to share a room.

Subject: Thank you for making Bingo Night human

Thanks for joining us at [PLACE]. [ONE SPECIFIC HUMAN MOMENT].

Our next Bingo Night is [DATE, TIME, PLACE]. You can simply arrive; no app or account is required.

If you want to help greet, call one round, or set up the room, reply to [NAMED HUMAN CONTACT].

Tell us one thing to keep and one barrier to remove next time: [CONTACT / ACCESSIBLE RESPONSE METHOD].

Named human responsibility

The named host verifies every card and announcement, applies rules consistently, protects privacy, handles access and disputes, and stops conduct that makes the room unsafe or exploitative.